

CITY TO TAKE HYDRANT FIGHT TO HIGH COURT

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—War to the law against the new charge for hydrant service recently imposed by the city council today was declared by the city council today at a meeting that bristled with accusations against the commission. The council decided, if necessary, to take the fight to the state supreme court, and definitely declared that it would not be bound by the new charge until its contest had been judicially adjusted.

Commissioner Charles D. Heywood, for the mayor of the city, objected to the new charge, which he said was a violation of the city charter. He charged that the commission "had failed to take the city into consideration" and that it was "a violation of the city charter" and that it was "a violation of the city charter" and that it was "a violation of the city charter".

Senators Debate President's Veto Dry Law Conflict Grows Bitter

dander up today. Out-generated by the dry in the House after President Wilson had vetoed the prohibition bill, the veto today turned to the Senate in the hope that that body would support the veto from the White House.

The President's veto was overridden in the House by a vote of 176 to 55 late last night, when less than half of the members were present. Representative Volstead, had announced that the veto would be brought up for a vote on Thursday.

Little hope was placed today in the belief that the Senate would sustain the Presidential veto, for the Senate is politically dry.

PEACE PACT EXPECTED

BY UNITED PRESS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Prospects for early Senate action on the peace treaty again looked brighter today as administration leaders prepared to force a vote on the Shields and Moses amendments, which deal with the voting in the league of nations.

The Johnson amendment on this subject was defeated by a vote of 38 to 40 yesterday. The vote came unexpectedly and many Senators were not present.

Senator Lodge yesterday said "a few more remarks from Senators on the Republican side were yet to be made before the Shields amendment is voted on."

The possibility of the prohibition bill, vetoed by the President yesterday, coming before the Senate seemed the only obstacle in the way of treaty voting today.

COLORADO PREPARES FOR ALL EVENTUALITIES

DENVER, Oct. 28.—In the absence of Governor Shoup from the forthcoming today from state officials in regard to the request from the Denver Civic and Commercial Association that the government be asked to regulate the coal industry in the Southern Colorado coal fields before Friday of this week.

Despite an informal referendum, in which a record of miners participated, resulting in a majority vote against a strike, it is generally believed that the strike called for next Saturday will be headed by practically all union men and a great percentage of those not working under contract, unless protection against disorders is assured.

Reports from Trinidad and Walsenburg, where serious riots have occurred in previous coal strikes, say that the women are being sent out of the territory as a precautionary measure.

State officials have announced their full sympathy with President Wilson's policy of prohibiting a shutdown in the coal industry in Colorado and will take steps to cooperate in any action he decides upon.

stand throughout the morning, was asked by Sweeney:

"Do you know who the people are that are hiring the detectives who have been following Mr. Coppage for the last six or seven months?"

"No, I do not," said Mrs. Coppage.

She did admit employing detectives, however, in February and March, for a few weeks after he alleged that Coppage told her he had been hired by a man named Sweeney.

That more than $98,000 remains unaccounted for by cancelled checks of deposits of $149,850 in the Crocker National Bank in San Francisco, was the assertion today of Mrs. Coppage.

COURTROOM RESEMBLES BANKING INSTITUTION.

The courtroom resembled a banking institution. Mrs. Coppage poured over checks and checkbooks, ledgers and notebooks, in an effort to show that her husband is wealthy. She was cross-examined at length regarding just what Coppage told her about his investments.

In answer to a question from Attorney Sweeney, she said that she figured that her husband was worth $400,000.

It is the contention of the defense that Coppage has approximately $20,000 in addition to the value of stock he owns in oil companies. According to his attorneys, many of the checks that were issued against his account in the Crocker Bank are not available.

Mrs. Coppage told of her husband's directions to her in March of this year to pack his trunk, as he would want to leave soon for the east. She said she did not do so because she did not want him to go.

She said she was told by friends of her husband that he was going to be a millionaire. Soon after, he is alleged to have informed her that he was "broke."

The plaintiff's case was resumed this afternoon.

STREET CAR CASES SET FOR NOV. 14

An echo of the Oakland street car strike, fifteen men and youths appeared this morning before Police Judge Smith to answer charges of rioting, placing obstructions on car tracks and disturbing the peace. Pleas of not guilty were made in every case, and the hearings were set for November 14, awaiting the decision of the federal court in San Francisco in dealing with violations of the temporary federal injunction. Felony charges of placing obstructions on car tracks are pending against Richard Leibel, Lionel E. Harbison, Albert E. White, Christopher Dixon. Charges of rioting and disturbing the peace are lodged against C. H. Prangen, Frank D. Barrett, William Nash, Pat Murphy, William Schott, Louis Marcelle, William H. Jones, Manuel Villar, Anthony Enos, Harry Olsen, Harry Brook and Dement Purcell. Harry Brook is also charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

BURGERS ENTER SEVERAL HOMES

Pass-key thieves, a burglar who used a rock to effect an entrance and a plunger to pry open a window made nocturnal visits in several Oakland homes last night, according to complaints received at central station this morning.

Approximately $100 worth of valuables were stolen by a burglar who entered a dwelling street, according to the report of J. C. McCauley, 2134 Myrtle street.

Y. Matsushita, 1930 San Pablo avenue, reported that a rock was thrown through a window at his place of business, but the thief got only $5 in cash.

Pass-key thieves visited John Martin, 221 Ninth street, and stole several personal articles; E. Craw, Vendome hotel, personal articles; and Mrs. Mary Williams, 1081 Third street, articles of small value.

He Hits Friend Who Demanded a Drink

Probably because his "friend," a bartender, wanted to impress upon him the mistake of excessive drinking, C. W. Parker, 117 East Twenty-first street, sustained a bump from the impact of a beer bottle.

The beer bottle, handled by Harry Martin, 1124 Eleventh avenue, was his "best friend," but he was forced to use the bottle when Parker insisted on "just another drink."

Parker was treated at the Emergency hospital.

Women Shoplifters Are Sisters, Claim

The "shoplifting sisters" have made their appearance at Oakland police headquarters.

They are detained in cells at the city prison as a result of the watchfulness of Police Inspector Harry Orrell on his round looking for shoplifters in the big department stores. They give the names Mrs. Sadie Smith and Mrs. Annie Hanson and stated to the police they were sisters.

A quantity of silk dresses, waists, silk stockings and other goods were found on both women when they were taken in custody at Capwell's store, according to the police.

They will appear in police court tomorrow morning.

King Albert Addresses Congress Short Talk Made in Senate, House

BY UNITED PRESS
LEASER WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—The White House received its first European monarch when King Albert and Queen Elizabeth of Belgium called to pay their respects to the President and Mrs. Wilson.

Their call was informal and lasted only twenty minutes. It was 10:20 when they reached the executive mansion and they left at 10:40.

While the Belgian rulers were in the White House, Doctors Grayson, Ruffin and Stitt were holding their customary morning conference over the President's condition and he did not see the visitors.

Mrs. Wilson greeted them at the door and the King and Queen chatted with America's "first lady" and with Miss Margaret Wilson, the President's daughter.

Mrs. Wilson also escorted the visitors to the door and as the Queen left she kissed Mrs. Wilson's hand.

While the Belgians were in the White House, Secretary of State Lansing, Major General J. M. Wright, Major General W. W. Hoffman, Count D'Outremont and Countess D'Armanville, were in the White House.

On his return to the Long residence, where he is staying, King Albert received Miss Margaret Wilson and at her departure the King and Prince Leopold saw her into the car. They encountered Secretary of War D. H. Baker at the door and the King and Prince escorted them into their temporary home. Later all cabinet officers and their wives were received by the King.

KING ALBERT ADDRESSES C. S. SENATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—King Albert of the Belgians paid homage in the House of Representatives today to the American army, which he described as the "decisive factor in determining the victory."

In an address to the Senate a few minutes earlier, he had asserted that "nothing could better characterize the reign of universal democracy than the friendship between his country and the United States."

The addresses of His Majesty today were the longest and most important he has made in America. They were intended as messages of appreciation and sympathy to the American nation and its sincerity in expressing the thanks of Belgium to Americans for their aid was plainly evident.

"I salute," he said to the Senate, "not only the eminent men who have labored here during the day, but I salute the memory of your great predecessors who, during 130 years, have sat in this place and given to the whole world the example of highest civic virtues. The words of the Senate seals that reception, so warm and so spontaneous, I have received everywhere during my journey across this magnificent country. I am deeply moved by the expressions of sympathy that the name of Belgium evokes from this noble American people."

UNIVERSAL DEMOCRACY EXISTS, HE SAYS

"Nothing could better characterize the reign of universal democracy than that friendship which unites the great Republic with its one hundred and ten million citizens and the realm of which and the constitutional head, with its seven and a half million inhabitants. If there is no equality of power and riches between them, there is equality in the love and liberty and inspiration towards social progress. On both sides of the Atlantic the same ideal inspires us. The exchange of ideals, the commercial relations, the visits of Belgium to America, the American citizens, of whom many sit in this assembly, are so many means of tightening the bonds between the two nations.

"I hope with all my heart that these relations which go back as far as memory, which have been fortified during the war as well as by the admirable assistance which you rendered Belgium by feeding her people and by donating arms, will never cease to develop for the great good of the two peoples."

The visit to the Senate of King Albert and the Duke of Brabant, which lasted an hour and then went immediately to the House, in his address there His Majesty said:

AMERICAN ARMY DECISIVE FACTOR

"I am happy to be able to bear to this chamber, which embodies the highest spirit of the American people, the greetings of Belgium, a democratic and parliamentary state, created by the vote of the popular assembly of 1830, which proclaimed the independence of our provinces. It is a pleasure to recall that many of the provisions of our constitution were taken from your fundamental law, so that at the outset of her career Belgium was indebted to you. Our two peoples have fought and triumphed together. The intervention of the American army was the decisive factor in determining the victory. I pay my respectful and sincere homage to the officers, the soldiers and sailors, who fell for a great cause on the battlefields of Europe and in the defense of the seas.

"The hearts of Belgium, whom these heroes helped to liberate from the domination of the enemy, go out in profound gratitude to the wounded. In their name I address to the world a message of the assurance of our affection and sympathy. I express the gratitude of Belgium to those distinguished American citizens who gave themselves with such a spirit of sacrifice to the task of lightening the sufferings of the Belgian people."

"In this noble assembly I solemnly thank the members of the commission for relief and the innumerable committees that helped in its admirable efforts. I salute, in particular, the names, given forever to our memories, of Herbert Hoover and Brand Whitlock."

"May this splendid American nation, so richly endowed by nature, so magnificently served by its people, pursue the worthy and powerful work of achievement, of culture and of progress."

KIMBALL ELECTRIC COMPANY

Capwells

THIS business was founded in 1889 by H. C. Capwell.

It is now owned and controlled solely by H. C. Capwell and A. S. Lavenson, who entered into partnership with him in 1892.

Immediate alterations and improvements were then made which were considered extensive in those days, but insignificant compared with additions made at various times since then.

Seemingly the fruition of their hopes and ambition came in 1912 when this present large structure was completed and the greater Capwells launched.

But what was the result?

Within a single year more elevators had to be added, various departments enlarged and stocks increased three-fold. Within two years a complete Downstairs store was added with 22 departments. Each year has brought additional and further enlargements, the greatest having just been completed at a cost that would build a new and equip a fair-sized store.

Broad as was the vision and careful the planning—both fell short, but Capwells have kept steadily abreast of the growth of Oakland—and will keep so.

Fair dealing is the foundation principle upon which this business was established and grew, and which has gained for us the good will of our customers. The founders hope to maintain, extend and strengthen that greatest of all assets, and to make more permanent friends for the store this coming year than in any of the thirty years that have passed.

Gail Laughlin As Women's Luncheon Guest

By EDNA B. KINARD

Recently Miss Gail Laughlin has been elected to stand at the head of a vast array of business and professional women of the nation. That presidency is taking her away from California for a period of several months.

"Before she goes," declare her sister women, "we must show her how much we appreciate her. We must do something which will bear witness to our esteem. We cannot give her gifts. We can only offer deeds."

So it is that a prophet, eye even in a woman prophet is to be honored in her own country. So it is that for the mid-November, probably on November 18, the women of Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda and San Francisco will come together at Hotel Oakland for no other reason than to do honor to Miss Gail Laughlin. A luncheon will be arranged at which the prominent feminine leaders of the cities about the bay will gather to give the tribute which they feel is due her who has accomplished much for their cause in the early days of the suffrage fight in California. Miss Laughlin came here to abide. Several hundred guests will be entertained. Details for the function are in the keeping of a large committee of which Mrs. C. E. Chaney is chairman. The committee is holding a preliminary meeting this week to separate from the multiplicity of suggestions those which will combine to make the complimentary luncheon the perfect event which its sponsors desire. Besides being national president of the Professional Business Woman's League, Miss Laughlin is president of the California Civic League and active in the Collegiate Alumnae Association, California branch Women's Legislative Council of California and Bar Association.

The new season for the Delphian chapters of the bay district and adjacent towns will be ushered in on Wednesday with an elaborately appointed luncheon at Hotel Oakland at which several scores of members will gather. Oakland and the Delphian chapters will be the hostesses of the day which is arranged by way of welcoming those who have joined the study clubs since the mid summer. Later adjournment will be taken at the Delphian Club house where Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, president of Mills College, will review "Well Known Plays of Ancient Greece." While guests will be invited for the social function, the lecture will be limited to Delphian members.

Twenty-one chapters are listed in the club directory of the bay district, six of which hold their regular meetings for study in Oakland and Alameda. Among the local women prominently identified with the Delphian movement here are: Mrs. William B. Sharon, Mrs. Julius McClymont, Mrs. Greene Malors, Mrs. Grace Best, Mrs. Fred Hall, Mrs. A. H. Winder, Mrs. William E. Land, Mrs. T. B. Dorel.

Home Club members have agreed that a deeper feeling of good fellowship is needed in these changeable times and for that purpose have an-

CHILDREN AIDED BY NATIVE SONS

The Eastbay parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West, who are engaged in a big membership campaign, which closes December 31, are calling attention to the splendid work of the organization, among the big features being the good accomplished by the Homeless Children committee.

At a meeting held this week at Native Sons' hall Miss Mary Brustle, secretary of the committee, told of the committee's work. She said in part:

"To secure happy home life for neglected and abandoned children is good work for the best brain and heart in America."

"The men and women of California who have organized as native born in this wonderful state of ours recognize to the fullest extent that home is the family life furnish the only normal and natural conditions for the rearing of children and they have given of their time and energy and money in a mighty effort to give every child who comes under their jurisdiction, what is due him—the environment of a good moral home."

"In August, 1910, the Homeless Children undertaken by the Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West and each year finds new recruits—brothers and sisters who have had the opportunity to place a child in some home, and to observe personally what the association with youth has meant to men and women living in their vicinity; men and women who were on the verge of giving up, and who, in the mature old age needing only the youthful environment to bring back the sparkle to the eye, and elasticity to the step—men and women who, broadened, made over by the pleasure of a helpless little being in their home."

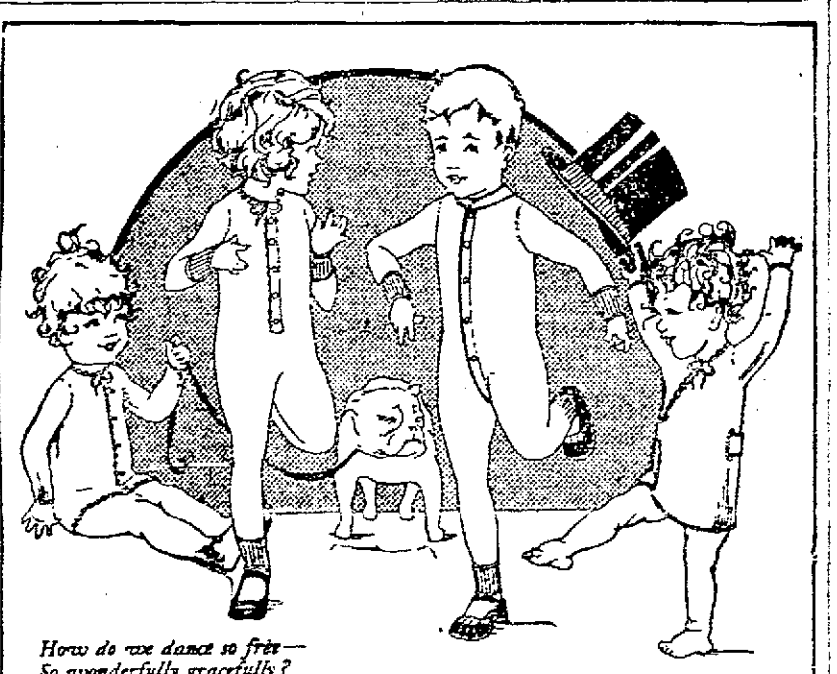

"The late Professor Carleton Parker said that in 83 per cent of the boys in our state school there was shown no adequate explanation for the boys' wrong doing, except bad home influences and improper associations. Professor Parker admitted the foster home at the earliest possible age, and reiterated what has been the experience of every child-placing agency—that children must be taken in infancy to properly insure a permanent place in the affections of their foster parents."

announced an informal dinner with a program and dance to follow for Thursday evening, November 6. Joseph S. Mills will lead the community sing. Mrs. Everett J. Brown will contribute a reading. Assisting Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gaylord in receiving the guests will be Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Breed, Dr. and Mrs. G. E. Brinkerhoff, Dr. and Mrs. H. D. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Breed, Miss Annie Florence Brown, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bryan, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Capwell, Dr. and Mrs. Austin Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Chambers, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crane, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. Nat Crossley, Mr. and Mrs. George G. Cummings.

Winter philanthropy will have a generous treasury to back it up in the Frick Parent-Teacher Association whose good deeds are never too even in meeting. A carnival swelled the funds so much the better for the philanthropy. A Hallowe'en dance appointed with all the mystical signs brought into the coffers last Friday night $22.75 and gave the entire community—mothers, fathers, grandmothers and grandfathers and boys and girls—the time of their lives. Mrs. Benjamin Keeler was the chairman responsible for the success.

Happy Mothers

Many mothers who in order to keep the home neat and attractive, the children well fed and dressed, continually overdo.

The experience of motherhood alone causes a severe strain upon the system, from which many women recover slowly, and serious feminine disorders may develop unless great care is taken to prevent them.

To such women Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is invaluable. For many years this root and herb medicine has been recognized as the standard remedy for woman's ills, restoring them to a normal, healthy condition.

Mrs. Morgan's Case

East Hampton, N. Y. — "For two years I suffered with a female weakness, pains in my back and painful periods, and I was so weak and tired that I was not able to do my work. A friend told me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it gave me great relief. My pains left me and I am now able to do my work and feel fine. You can publish my testimonial and if your Vegetable Compound does others as much good as it has me I will be very much pleased."—Mrs. CHARLES E. MORGAN, C of E. L. Dennett.

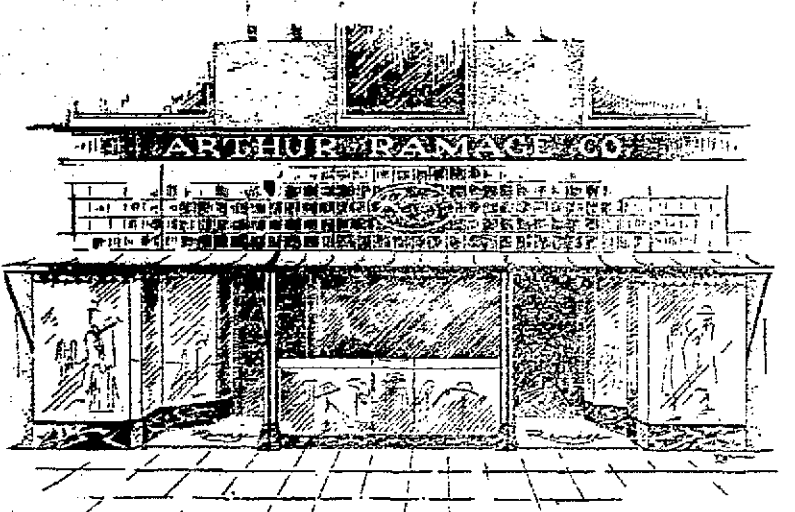

A Word to Childless Women

There are women everywhere who long for children in their homes yet are denied this happiness on account of some functional disorder which in many cases would readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Such women should not give up hope until they have given this wonderful medicine a trial.

Hair and Scalp Ailment Solved By Science

A Hair Specialist Is of as Much Importance as Your Doctor or Dentist!

Prof. John H. Austin, well-known bacteriologist, hair and scalp specialist of Chicago, says that it is useless to cure dandruff, falling hair, only hair, baldness, or any other hair or scalp trouble with the ordinary dandruff cures, mange cures, hair tonics or vaselines—fact is it is just like taking medicine without knowing what you are trying to cure. When you stop to think that there are over sixty conditions of the hair and scalp that all require different treatment, different remedies, it is easily understood that only a specialist can advise what to do.

The roots of the hair must be examined with a powerful microscope—the exact cause of each particular trouble must be determined—before the case can be intelligently treated.

Prof. Austin has had 20 years experience in conditions of the hair and scalp. During this time thousands of people have found relief from their hair and scalp troubles. In many instances new hair has been grown on bald patches, and baldness arrested. You can easily see the advantage of following the Prof. Austin method, now being demonstrated at The Owl Drug Store, Fourteenth and Washington.

WIVES' WOES SET FORTH IN DIVORCE SUITS

How one woman begged her husband in vain to return to her and another lived in daily terror that her spouse would do her harm is told in two divorce cases pending in the superior court. Mrs. Mary Killeen declared to Judge E. C. Robinson that her husband frequently promised to return to her, but did not do so. Mrs. Killeen has sued Dr. Louise V. Rupe of San Francisco for $20,000 for alienation of Dr. Killeen's affections.

Finally, said Mrs. Killeen, she gave up her home here and went to live with a daughter in San Francisco. Though her husband had previously protested against the long trip across the bay she still refused, she said, to resume his position as head of her household. Answering the court's questions she admitted the defendant had often played with the children before leaving home and expressed his affection both for them and herself. Her sister, Mrs. Nellie V. Freeman, told the court Mrs. Killeen had been forced to go to work by the day to support the children.

WILL GRANT DECREE.
Judge J. S. Koford heard the divorce complaint of Mrs. Pearl Neighbor against Howard Neighbor, and intimated he would grant her an interlocutory decree, $35 a month and the custody of her three-year-old son. Among the statements Mrs. Neighbor attributed to her husband were the following:

"I don't know why I married; I just woke one morning and found I was and have been sorry ever since."

"Anybody that wants my wife can have her; I don't want her."

"We may separate but you are mine, and you'll never get a divorce."

She said Neighbor was abusive and that she lived in constant fear that he might strike or choke her. The couple were married in 1915.

INFLUENCE CHARGED.
Flowers, ice-cream, perfumery and other gifts to his mother's regard were lavished by Henry Frank Kern upon Mrs. Margaret McGlynn before her death, according to Mrs. Edith Daly, his sister, to whom and to Kern Mrs. McGlynn left a $40,000 estate in equal shares. Mrs. Daly offered an older will in which Mrs. McGlynn left practically all the estate to her.

A letter which Kern wrote to his sister was produced in evidence before Judge Dudley Kinsell. It read in part:

"I have suffered all my life for the wrongs of others, their injustices that they have shown me and I have hated them most bitterly. But I have gone back to my church and begged God to forgive them, as I have forgiven all my enemies and prayed for them, as they know not what they do."

Mrs. Daly is a widow. Mrs. McGlynn died June 30, 1919. The will Kern submitted is dated May 31.

Y. W. C. A. Notes

The Hostess club of the Y. W. C. A. held a Halloween party in the recreation room of the association last Friday evening. The hall was attractively decorated with corn stalks, orange and crepe streamers, witches, cats, bats and skulls by the decorating committee, which included Misses Baumgarten, Hanson, Burdett, Paplow, Modan, Carmen Anderson, Kilmaker and Murray, and the Messrs. Green, Dolan, Kreutzberger and Aaronson.

The prizes for costumes were awarded to Miss Alice Burton and to Mr. Lawrence Green. The party was under the direction of Miss Margaret Pierson, the recreation secretary.

Five cent movies is now one of the many new features at the Y. W. C. A. The programs are in charge of Miss David Allen, who is endeavoring to secure the best and most entertaining films. The pictures which have already been shown at these movies are: "Bryant Washburn in 'The Way of a Man with a Woman'"; and "Wallace Reid in 'Too Many Millions'."

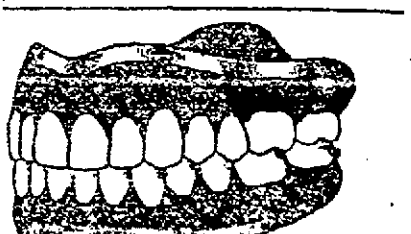

The young people of Oakland are invited tomorrow evening to attend the showing of the picture entitled "Three Men and a Girl," featuring Marguerite Clark, which is felt by Miss Allen will be greatly enjoyed by all.

Miss Lucia Smith and Owen Fogarty have rendered musical programs in connection with these movies, which were certainly appreciated by those attending.

The movies are held in the Y. W. C. A. auditorium, 1515 Webster street, on Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock.

Thin, Weak Folks Need Blood-Iron Phosphate

If you are thin, weak and emaciated and lack strength, energy, vigor and endurance; if you have that worn out, old, tired feeling; the chances are that it is because your nerves need phosphate and your blood needs iron. Either phosphate or iron by itself is insufficient; both must be supplied at the same time. For this purpose pure Blood-Iron Phosphate is required. A 5-grain tablet taken at meal times three times daily restores nervous energy, enriches the blood and helps you to put on pounds of good stay-the-flesh in a manner that is little short of marvelous. The pure Blood-Iron Phosphate from The Owl Drug Co. or any other good druggist for three weeks' treatment—it costs only $1.50—50 cents a week—and take as directed. If at the end of three weeks you haven't gained several pounds in weight and don't feel stronger and better than you have for months, if your eyes aren't brighter, your nerves aren't steadier, if you don't sleep better, and your vim, vigor and vitality aren't more than doubled, you can have your money back for the asking and Blood-Iron Phosphate will cost you nothing.—Advertisement.

COULDN'T REGAIN STRENGTH AFTER INFLUENZA ATTACK

Utah Woman Tells How She Recovered Health by the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

"I was one of the victims of the influenza epidemic last fall," says Mrs. Sarah C. Rhodes, of No. 501 Thirteenth street, Ogden, Utah. "The disease used up my strength so completely that I was prostrated and, try as I would, couldn't regain my health. I was losing weight all the time and my nerves were shattered to the point of trembling constantly and it seemed as though I should fly to pieces. There was a throbbing sensation in the pit of my stomach and I had little appetite. I couldn't sleep well and was becoming melancholy and depressed. I didn't have strength enough to leave my bed.

My husband brought home a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and advised me to give the remedy a trial. I followed his advice and a week later my health began to improve. In a little while I was able to get up and gained strength rapidly from that time on. My nerves became stronger too and now I can sleep and eat a good meal. My color is much improved and I feel like a different person. I recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills highly for I know what they will do.

A useful booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Write for it direct by mail, postpaid, at 50 cents a box, six boxes for $2.50. Advertisement.

IF THIN AND NERVOUS TRY PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

When one stops to consider the host of thin people who are searching continually for some method by which they may increase their flesh to normal proportions by the filling out of ugly hollows, the rounding off of protruding angles with the attendant bloom of health and attractiveness, it is no wonder that many and varied suggestions along this line appear from time to time in public print.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition.

It seems to be well established that this deficiency in phosphorus may now be met by the use of an organic phosphate known throughout English-speaking countries as Bitro-Phosphate. The assimilation of this phosphate by the nerve tissue soon produces a welcome change in our body and mind. Nerve tension disappears, vigor and strength replace weakness and lack of energy and the whole body soon loses its ugly hollows and abrupt angles, becoming enveloped in a graceful, healthy and beautiful and the will and strength to be in and doing.

CATION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those desiring it who desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding the accompanying food—advertisement.

Chronic Asthma Cured

Y. L. Chan, the noted herb specialist, has achieved the greatest success in treating cases of asthma and bronchial trouble. The following testimonial shows what he did in one case:

Dr. Y. L. CHAN,

San Francisco, California:

My Dear Sir:

I wish to herewith express to you my grateful appreciation for what you have done for me.

For almost seven years of my life I was a sufferer of chronic asthma. During the period of time I tried many doctors, and sought different climatic conditions, in the hope of recovering my health, but I am frank to state that I could find absolutely no relief.

After putting myself in your care and under your treatment I found myself gradually improving, and at the end of three months' time during which I treated with you I found myself completely cured from the ailment with which I was afflicted, namely chronic asthma.

It is now almost four years since you treated me for my trouble, during all of which time I have had no recurrence of the affliction, and during all of which time, and at the present time, enjoy the best of good health. I attribute my good physical condition entirely to your wonderful cure, and wish to bestow my testimonial to the many you have already received in appreciation for what you have done for me.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) MRS. LUCILLE SPADONI

EX-KAISER TO BE GIVEN UP BY HOLLAND

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—Intimation that the Netherlands will accede to a request for the extradition of the Kaiser for a trial before an international tribunal was seen here today in a statement by J. G. Van Thienen, secretary of the Netherlands delegation to the international labor conference.

Van Thienen said that no nation has demanded the extradition of the Kaiser and that no tribunal before which he could be tried exists.

The peace treaty, he points out, provides that the allies shall publicly arraign the Kaiser before a tribunal and also provides for a request for extradition.

Van Thienen adds that it has been publicly announced that the Netherlands intends to accede to the covenant of the League of Nations after having obtained the co-operation of the states in general.

CHARGE AGAINST MINING MAN IS STAMPED ABSURD

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23.—"Absurd!" is the characterization by the United States circuit court of appeals of the fraud charge against William S. Noyes, president of the Presidio Mining company.

The case has been long pending. It was brought by Captain William S. Overton, representing the minority stockholders. Noyes was alleged to have committed fraudulent acts in financing a part of the company's mine in Presidio county, Tex. He also was charged with failure to account to the minority shareholders for ore extracted from the mine from 1913 to 1915.

Says the circuit court: "Aside from the absurdity of charging Noyes with extortion in securing the legal title to his own property, there is no evidence to support even the color of coercion in the transfer.

An injunction issued against Noyes was dissolved.

Light Frost Noted Near Mills College

Oakland's first real frost this season appeared this morning, when, in the canyon below Mills College, near Chabot Observatory, a marked frost formation was noted. The lowest temperature in the hills above was 44 degrees, the valley temperature being twelve degrees lower to form frost, which whitened trees and grass.

Professor Charles Burckhalter of Chabot Observatory, who reported the frost, says that this marks the first real frost of the season, although very light frost formation was seen in Oakland parks, on the lawns, several nights ago. The general temperature, however, was above the frost level elsewhere in Oakland.

SUGAR SALE TO FRANCE ATTACKED

WASHINGTON, October 23.—Nearly 400,000 tons of sugar, enough to meet American demands, is held in Cuban warehouses, said a cablegram today from President Alejandro Careceno of the Cuban Sugar Manufacturers and Planters' Association, to Chairman McNary of the Senate Sugar Investigating Committee.

"Cuba is willing on reasonable returns to protect future contingencies," said the cablegram, "but the blame is not with Cuba, which should not be penalized because the American market is unbalanced."

Action of the War Department in selling to France 22,000,000 pounds of sugar sent overseas for the American expeditionary force was criticized in the House by Representative Bland, Republican, of Indiana.

Bland said that since this sugar was sold the department had called for 12,000,000 pounds of sugar for the Army for the present quarter.

"Wouldn't General Pershing know something about the disposition of American sugar in France?" asked Representative Mars, Democrat, of Utah.

"If General Pershing didn't know more about disposition of sugar than he did about the front," Bland replied, "it would be useless to ask him. I found him 200 miles from the front on July 19, 1918, when the battle of Chateau Thierry was at its height."

LATE OAKLAND EVENTS ARE ALL SHOWN IN FILMS

The most valuable cargo to arrive in Oakland, 9000 tons of hemp from Manila, was filmed by the Tribune-Kinema Weekly as it was unloaded, and is now being shown at the Kinema Theater.

The freighter in which the cargo arrived was the West Cawthon, a California-built craft that has just completed her maiden voyage. Chief Engineer Kanady and Captain Farley were filmed by the camera man.

The outing given to 225 soldiers from Letterman Hospital by the Alameda Post of the American Legion of Honor, the Tribune flying circus at Durek Field and the parade of the Oakland school children are also features of the Tribune-Kinema Weekly.

CAVE-IN ON S. P. CAUSES DETOURS

Southern Pacific trains by the Valley route between this city and Los Angeles are re-routed today as a result of a cave-in at the Tehachapi tunnel, forty miles from Bakersfield. It is expected to require until November 2 to clear the debris from the tracks.

The Owl now runs by the coast line to Oakland pier. Train 49 to Oakland pier is canceled. Train 109, leaving Los Angeles at 10:15 p. m., runs as far as Cable, where the passengers are transferred by automobile. The same plan is followed with train 107.

CALIFORNIA LEADS FOREST RECEIPTS

For the first time in years the California District, including California and a small part of Western Nevada, leads all forest service districts in the amount of its receipts, $147,995 having been collected for the quarter ending September 30. District 6, embracing Oregon, Washington and Alaska, was California's nearest competitor with $115,134 to its credit for the same period. Receipts for the whole forest service for the quarter totaled $511,468.49, an increase of better than $78,000 over the same period last year; and this increase was due almost entirely to the large volume of business done in California.

Twenty-five per cent of the California district's receipts—approximately $27,000—will be returned to the State for division among the counties in which the National Forests are located. An additional 10% is made available to the forest service (supplemented by other funds) for the construction of roads and trails within the State.

VOICE BETRAYS ALLEGED HOLD-UP

George Baker, alleged professional "stickup" man, was betrayed by his own voice in Judge Smith's court yesterday, and as a result was held with bail fixed at $5000 to answer in the superior court.

With Edward Boell, Baker was haled into court on a charge of having held up H. D. Doyle and robbed of a $50 watch and chain and $30 in currency. Boell was discharged, but immediately re-arrested by Inspector William Kyle as he left the courtroom upon a warrant charging him with having held up a man two weeks prior to the crime for which Baker is held in answer.

Just as Boell entered the courtroom Baker, who is charged with having held him up, was going on the stand. Asked if he could identify the accused man Doyle said that the man that held him up was masked, but that he would like to hear him talk.

Although Baker spoke in low tones, Doyle said that he recognized the voice and Judge Smith held the defendant to answer accordingly.

There was also a connecting link in the case obtained when Baker was interviewed in the inspector's room at the central station. The police say that during the interview Doyle's watch and chain were "ditched" beneath a couch by Baker.

CHARGE AGAINST AUTOIST FAULTY

Charged with committing a felony by driving an automobile while intoxicated, Richard Osborn, a local merchant, was released by Judge Samuels yesterday as the result of the absence of a signature to the complaint.

Osborn and Harry Broberg were together and both were arrested. Broberg, being charged with drunk driving, was fined $5 and Osborn was released on $2,000 bail. At the time of the arrest of the two men early Saturday morning the police claim that Osborn was driving the machine which crashed into a work car of the Oakland Traction company at Twelfth and Broadway, endangering the lives of nearly a score of workmen. It is alleged.

There being no signed complaint issued against Osborn when the case was called yesterday morning, the matter was stricken from the calendar.

FUNNY EVENTS ATTEND FRENCH ACTORS' STRIKE

PARIS, Oct. 28.—The strike of the music hall and concert actors here caused some humorous incidents. Dorville, one of the headliners at the Casino de Paris, one of the most popular singers with the French public, was dragged off the platform with the theatrical "hook" for the first time in his career since his amateur days when, at a meeting of the Federation of Theater Workers, he opposed the strike.

"Will you pay my forfeit of 130,000 francs if I break my contract with the Casino de Paris?" he asked the howling audience. Then the hook seized him. When Volterra, the manager of the Casino de Paris, met the strikers in his theater, he was accompanied by Georges Carpentier and Eugene Criqui, the latter of whom recently knocked out Walter Rose, the English bantamweight champion.

FIGHT STARTED TO FREE LIQUOR

LOUISVILLE Ky., Oct. 28.—Attorneys for national liquor interests are in Louisville for the second step in a contest inaugurated October 10 in Federal Court here to test the constitutionality of war-time prohibition law and eventually obtain the release for sale of 70,000,000 gallons of whisky in bond, valued approximately at $75,000,000.

The skirmish contemplated arguments on a motion for an injunction against Elwood Hamilton, Collector of Internal Revenue for Kentucky, which would restrain him from interfering with removal of the whisky in Kentucky warehouses.

The suit questions the power of Congress to prohibit the sale of distilled spirits manufactured long before the United States entered the war, and is based largely on the fifth amendment to the Constitution, which prohibits confiscation of private property without compensation.

Grocers Said to Pay Double Packers' Rate

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—A list of more than 1000 articles, other than meats, which he said, were shipped by the "Big Five" packers in refrigerator cars along with fresh meats, was introduced by Walter R. Scott, a traffic expert, who was testifying on behalf of the Wholesale Grocers' association in a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission of the complaint of discrimination by the railroads against the grocers in favor of the packers. Scott also introduced documentary evidence which showed several hundred shipments where the grocers were forced to pay from 20 to 100 per cent higher charges a car than the packers between the same points and on the same railroads.

SCHOOL BOARD RE-OPENS HALF FARE CAMPAIGN

The movement for half-fare street car fares for school children is to be reopened by the board of education, according to a decision reached at its meeting last evening. A request that such action be taken was received from the Parent-Teachers Association of the Washington school and received favorable action. It is planned to ask an extension of the reduced fares to pupils of all public schools, high as well as grammar. The board appointed a committee consisting of President Floyd Gray and Directors Chandler, Edwards and Short and Superintendent Fred M. Hunter to devise means for securing the reduction. The proposed appointment of Mrs. Mary Bradley to serve as matron in the Fremont high school met with opposition from board members and resulted in a demand for an investigation of sanitary needs in the various schools. Mrs. Bradley was to have been named from the civil service eligible list at a salary of $100 a month. As a result of a number of suggestions for increased fire protection in Oakland schools made recently by Fire Chief Elliott Whitehead, the board last night ordered all fire extinguishers in the school buildings replaced every six months at stated times. The request of janitors for a 20 per cent increase in pay for extra work was denied by the board last night. A petition from residents of the Fifty-seventh avenue district for a kindergarten and primary school was referred to Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter for investigation and report. The board created the positions of women stores clerks and refectory attendants and asked the civil service board to create an eligible list. James A. Marshall was appointed assistant attendance officer. A committee was named by the board to dispose of Liberty bonds owned by the schools.

Organizations to Join in Parade Many to Take Part in Celebration

Co-operation of all civic, fraternal and war organizations in the plans for the "civics" parade of the Armistice day celebration planned for Oakland October 31 was asked yesterday by the civic welcome committee, which has charge of the affair. Two hundred letters were mailed to the city's organizations by Max Horowitz, chairman of the parade committee. Many of the civic organizations have signified their intention to march in the "civics" parade. Among the organizations already signed up are the American Legion, the Y. M. C. A., and the Branch War Veterans. Colonel J. K. Ritter has been appointed grand marshal and he has established headquarters in the offices of the Alameda County Development Commission, 313 Thirteenth street. Supervisors of Alameda county have appropriated $1500 for the armistice day celebration. The parade will be opened by the civic welcome committee, of which Jesse Robinson is the chairman. An elaborate program has been arranged for armistice day. There will be a "civics" parade at 10 o'clock in the morning; a regatta and water sports on Lake Merritt at 2 p. m.; memorial services for the men who were killed in the war in the municipal auditorium in the evening; there will be a grand ball in the municipal auditorium and a fireworks display on Lake Merritt.

CANADA FINISHES WOODEN VESSELS

VANCOUVER, B. C. Oct. 23.—Wooden shipbuilding, vigorously prosecuted here since 1916, came to an end in Canada today, the last ship being completed at the Chibougamau yards. At one time the coast payroll in this industry exceeded half a million dollars monthly, and is less already being felt. One yard is attempting to continue its work by selling stock to its employees and building ships for the market. It is not yet known if it will succeed.

SECRET TEST ON SUPERMEN CALLED DRAW

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 23.—Intercollegiate superman honors are a draw so far. The secret test held Saturday at California failed to name the winner. Here is how it all came about. Stimulated by California's boasts of possessing five "supermen," Stanford set out to uncover the equal of any modern Adonis that the State university could produce. Morris Kirksey, athlete of international reputation, a champion for the 100-yard dash, and football player of superlative quality, answered the call, presenting his incomparable physique to Dr. A. D. Brown, university physical director, accepting the challenge to measure up with California's best. Saturday afternoon, Kirksey and Brown made the trip to California where Kirksey was examined by the same physicians who discovered the "superman" at Berkeley. Both Kirksey and Brown insisted that the test should be held thus, that the boast of Stanford should not be considered mere noise of intercollegiate rivalry. So Kirksey was measured, and not through his paces, and shown off to determine which university was to be privileged to claim the western acme of physical perfection. Result—a draw. No flaw could be found in Kirksey's proportions, and his nerve when called on to perform the strenuous tests. The official examiners pronounced him in every way as fit a superman as Byron Sprott, the Blue and Gold marvel. TO TRY AGAIN. Though disappointed in not being able to prove conclusively Kirksey's superiority, Brown's sponsor, has not lost heart yet and states that he is going ahead with device new tests in collaboration with the University of California physical directors to decide the struggle for the honors. The California people are as anxious as Dr. Brown is to continue the tests as they are confident of their ability to put the best man in the field yet. As soon as the local doctors can devise new means of decision, the tests will be resumed and the name of the ultimate winner will be published.

'STANDBY' WATER CHARGE OPPOSED

ALAMEDA, Oct. 23.—That efforts of the Eastbay cities to secure cancellation of the so-called "standby" charge allowed the Eastbay Water company by the State Railroad commission will have the backing of the League of California Municipalities is indicated in a resolution adopted by the league, of which a copy was received today by City Attorney W. J. Locke. Another resolution of which he was sent a copy puts the league on record as favoring every possible extension of municipal ownership of public utilities. The former resolution declares the "standby" charge is economically and otherwise unjustifiable, that it has increased the cost of water to the Eastbay section by $200,000 and that it is additionally dangerous as a precedent for railroad commission action in the case of other public service corporations. The resolution launches an inquiry into the "standby" charge and offers its support to the Eastbay cities in their contesting of the charge and to other cities that may later face a comparable situation.

AUTO CONCERN PLANS LARGE BUILDING HERE

Standing out as the salient feature of the "get-together" dinner of the H. O. Harrison company Thursday evening was the announcement that architectural plans have been accepted and the contract signed for the construction of a building as the future home of the organization that will perhaps eclipse anything else of the kind on the Pacific coast. The announcement was made by Robert V. Harrison, secretary of the Alameda County Automobile Trade Association, as spokesman for General Manager H. B. Rector. It is deemed as particularly significant for the reason that it not only emphasizes the prosperity of the automobile trade as a whole, with special references to the rapid progress of the company in question, but shows the unbounded confidence of capital in the economic and industrial future of Eastbay territory.

Few details were given by the speaker to his audience of thirty persons. It was ascertained that the building would be located between Grand avenue and Twenty-third street, near Webster, with a frontage on the avenue of 140 feet and a depth of 125 feet, would be four stories in height and would be "one of the finest, if not the very finest structure of its kind on this coast."

The dinner was given in the used car department of the Harrison building at Twenty-eighth and Broadway because of the abundance of room provided. All cars were removed and the large room immaculately cleaned and tastefully decorated. The decorations were the work of the young women members of the organization.

A unique idea was the arranging of the tables in the form of a huge "H," the initial letter of the word Harrison. At the center of the short table forming the cross bar sat General Manager Rector, who officiated as toastmaster. At his right was Martland the orator of the evening, and at his left Larry Bell, who entertained with a slight-of-hand performance. Directly opposite the toastmaster sat certain departmental heads of the organization.

Musical was provided by the Athenian Club quartet, of which Eugene Blanchard is director and accompanist. Moving pictures were another feature of the gathering. Motor Transport Corps and factory views being screened by Mr. Scott, operator with the Miller-Scott Company, San Francisco. The factory views showing the different phases of automobile manufacture and the mammoth scale of production, proved intensely interesting.

In his speech on the value of co-operation and co-ordination in business, "Bob" Martland instanced the rapid growth of the automobile industry, declaring that the principal factor has been the harmony always prevailing, there being only one lawsuit of any consequence in its history. His words were amusing as well as instructive, many anecdotes and humorous stories being interspersed to the amusement of the audience.

So successful was the gathering that the toastmaster announced before the singing of the farewell that it was to be regarded as the first of a regular series of such occasions, the time for the next being set as the date of moving into the new building.

The young couple complied with his wishes.

Mr. Ross is night manager of the S. P. Grill. He is now erecting a neat cottage in Rosedale, which, when completed, will be the home of the young couple.

National Legislation of the Meat Packing Industry

- Will not increase the amount of meat you can buy for a dollar.
- Will not raise more animals.
- Will not produce more meat.
- Will not stop fluctuations in live-stock receipts or prices.
- Will not increase the output of the packing houses.
- Will not prevent strikes.
- Will not reduce transportation charges.
- Will not reduce the retailer's cost of doing business.
- Will not increase the demand for the cheaper cuts of meat.
- Will not lessen the consumers' demand for expensive delivery and credit service.
- Can not at the same time raise prices paid farmers for live stock, and lower prices paid by consumers for meat.

But the slowing up of efficiency due to cumbersome governmental routine will have the effect of increasing the manufacturing charges between the cost of live stock and the cost of meats, thus forcing lower live-stock prices or higher meat prices.

The packing industry as now conducted, is characterized by keen competition, highest efficiency, and unusually low profits.

A HARD JOB.
How would you like to scrawl your name diagonally across the lower left-hand corner of 16,000 photographs. And even if you didn't mind risking your cramp, how long would it take you to do it? Which questions are the natural outcome of having read a note issued by the Goldwyn press agent, stating that one of the last things which Geraldine Farrar did before leaving the film colony for her return home was to see to it that 16,000 photographs which she had autographed were sent to admirers who had requested them. And this is not all. It seems that during the past five months she has sent out over 50,000 photographs. We hope and trust that figure includes the 16,000 sent out a few days ago, but the press agent does not say. But when it is a matter of a few thousand to a P. A.

A NEW STAR.
J. Parker Read Jr. has a new star. Perhaps not one of the kind whose salaries run up into six figures, but one who has already distinguished himself as being worthy of stardom. The new star is "Runtz," the bull terrier of Louise Glaum. Recently "Runtz" did a diving stunt into the tank at the new studio, which was witnessed by all who were present. C. Gardner Sullivan thought it wise to write "Runtz" into Miss Glaum's new story.

HARDY IN LOS ANGELES.
Ola Harlan, the star of many Broadway, New York, vaudeville successes, has arrived in Los Angeles to appear in a series of comedy sketches written by Roy McCordell, the famous humorist. He is under the management of Sam E. Rorke.

books and plays have been read by Miss Young herself and her staff and it has just about been decided to employ a writer to do a story especially for the handsome star.

BALKED AT "PARIS GREEN."
Charles Ray did not like the title of "Paris Green" given to the new play he is working on, and, in order to please him and thus keep his temperamental nerves in place, it has been changed to "Paris Green."

SALARY FOR PRISCILLA.
Priscilla Dean's smile these days is one of extreme satisfaction. Priscilla recently indulged in a temperamental spree out at Universal City and won in a canter. The cause of the ruction was a more salary demand on the part of Priscilla. She is accounted one of the most profitable stars on the Universal payroll and fully realizing her value she "gave notice." The usual heated arguments followed, but all resulted in a new contract and the resumption of studio work by the star.

Josie Sedgwick for three years with Universal and Triangle, will play opposite Will Rogers in his next Goldwyn production.

ACHMED ABOLLAH

All that day the Bokharan lay in bed, and late that night, he sneaked once more into the Howrah railway station, his burly figure hidden under a dervish cloak.

Luck was with him. The police did not see him—if indeed the Pearl Tree had given the alarm—and he entered the native car. A minute later the train wheeled away.

"Oh Allah," he mumbled, with a sudden access of piety as he squatted between a raw-boned, blue-turbaned Sikh artisan and a fat Hindu banker who was dreaming rapturously about the virtues of compound interest.

"O Allah, thou art indeed the sanctuary and the refuge! Grant to me in this life prosperity, and save me in the life to come from the punishment of hell fire!"

Then, switching once more to worldly thoughts, he added under his breath:

"As for the Pearl Tree and that foul pig of a Cadorna may they both rot!"

"Peace, never big-foot!" crumbled the Sikh. "The night is for the sleep of the sleepers, not for the babble of the babblers," and the Bokharan mumbled a low insult in reply and presently fell asleep.

The sun was already in the heavens as he awakened, and the train was descending a hill—encircled basin of gravel and clay, typically Indian in its naked desolation of rumbling basalt piles and greenish-black strata of homely schist.

The engine stopped to take on water at a small desert station where the Sikh and the Hindu banker left. At the same station an Arab trader entered the car. He was evidently new to India, the many races of India and the many impurities of India, and it was not long before he got into a wrangle with the Bokharan.

Nor was it altogether the latter's fault.

For, recognizing a brother-Muslim, in the other, Mehmet Ghula Khan greeted him in perfect good faith with "Salaam alekhum!" the greeting which Moslem gives to Moslem the world over; and the Arab, orthodox and Puritan to the core, instead of giving greetings in return, sniffed contemptuously as he smelled forbidden liquor on the Bokharan's breath and exclaimed: "Ikhs ya! Khanmari!" which is the Arab way of cursing a drunkard, and added as a further insult: "Yah Abu-Zir!" "O Father of Snails!"

It was then that a bright thought xerminated in the Bokharan's bullet-shaped head, a scheme of evading the police net—supposing the Pearl Tree had made good her threat—which was perhaps not so very different from the plan a cunning American fugitive from justice would have conceived.

What's all this Shantung racket about, at any rate? Personally it's our opinion that a people who can produce an affair like this may have all of our Shantung they want any time they ask for it. Cheery blossoms against silk blue as the skies of Japan, pussy willows to tell of spring and love, and a girl. What more could heart desire! If this was the sort of convincing argument they sent over to the peace table no wonder they got Shantung. PIERROT.

OTHER LOVES
I've pledged my love to her entire,
To her I pay complete devotion;
Her happiness is my desire,
And she calls it just a notion.
"You still have other loves," says she,
"Deep in your heart are little nooks
Where I can never hope to be."
And then she cites my love for books.
"I'm yours till life shall pass away!"
Full many a time have I protested;
"Yours only till my dying day!"
And she has smiled and then suggested.

Jimmy-Old-Boy!
A Letter-Play

Names (II)

To J. O. B. Homeland
Speaking again of names, Jimmy-Old-Boy, take that neighbor of mine, Kinksmill Commander. Some people think that isn't his real name, it's so unusual and peculiar. Some even say it must be one he's picked up somewhere, or one he is using for business reasons. But it isn't. It's his honest name. The Commander part of it was bequeathed him by his father, and the Kinksmill part of it was picked out for him by his mother, and solemnly pronounced by the preacher in the old church when he sprinkled water on Kinksmill's bobbing baby head about forty-five years ago. And believe me, Jim, he's lived up to it all these years, which is more than many well-named people do. He is certainly one kindly and commanding person—in physical stature, moral nature, and mental strength.

I've always liked your name—Jim. It isn't as fancy as some other names you might have had—Algernon or Adoniram, for instance—but it has a wholesome and friendly sound. They certainly christened you propitiously. You owe them a debt which you will not be able to discharge even if you live to a good old age and pay monthly.

Somebody reminded me the other day that every man has several friends by the name of Jim, and they are nearly always first-rate fellows—friends you can tie to. Jims are usually thrifty and small borrowers. They seldom beat their wives or break into banks or wear side-whiskers.

And, Jim, there have been several very illustrious gentlemen in your cognominal line. Statistics gleaned from reliable sources with great difficulty show that 5 per cent of the English kings, 18 1/2 per cent of the presidents of the United States, and 8 1-3 per cent of the Apostles were named Jim. You're lucky. Your parents were far-seeing people. They named you well!

REVELATIONS

ADELE GARRISON

"You don't mind telling me why you were at the inn that day, do you?" I really ought to know what happened before I came on the scene."

I looked at him in astonishment. "Are you sure you are strong enough to go over all that now?" I asked.

"Positive." His tone was crisp assured. "I've been a weak, half-hysterical fool long enough. There's work to be done, and I've got to get out of here and do it."

I looked at him searchingly, saw that he was speaking only the truth. From somewhere within him he had brought his reserves of force and will power. That he could mend quickly now I was sure.

"I will make a bargain with you," I said, glad indeed that there was no longer embarrassment to me in conversing with him. "I'll tell you everything that happened before you arrived opportunely at the inn if you in turn will tell me the things which brought you to the inn at the time I dropped unconscious to the ground when you brought me to the hospital."

"You wished to see me?" A quiet voice with a subtle note of authority in it sounded behind me. I looked up startled to see a slight, rather good-looking young interne standing behind my chair. The nurse, with an inscrutable little smile in her eyes which I hotly resented, stood a little back of him. Neither the wounded officer nor I had heard them come into the room.

I recognized at once that the question had not been addressed to me, and drew back into my chair. I might say "shrink back," for I found myself unaccountably embarrassed at the whole situation—without the least intention toward the sick man.

To my great surprise the young officer, he of the calm face and chilled steel nerves, was visibly confused by the fraction of a minute. He evidently hadn't given another thought to the message he had sent the interne since the moment he succeeded in getting the nurse out of reach by means of the subterfuge.

He hesitated only a second or two, then spoke with the same air of resolution he had used in addressing the nurse.

"Yes, I do. I want to know when I can get out of here."

"YOU MUST BEHAVE"
Now even the professional calm of nurse and interne was quite able to be surprised when springing into their eyes at the wounded man's words. Their patient had been so hard a case to handle in his weakness and delirium that I think they had lost sight of the part that his fancy might play in his recovery when he should choose to exercise it.

The interne recovered his professional poise almost instantly, however.

"That is a matter for some deliberation," he said pleasantly. "You've been a pretty sick man, you know." The wounded man snorted. "I can call it nothing else—and I was suddenly and irresistibly reminded of Dicky when any one opposes a course upon which he has set himself."

"Deliberation!" he ejaculated, and I felt intuitively that if the nurse and I hadn't been present, a forcible expulsive would have been added to the word. "It strikes me there's been all the deliberation going on around here that one man needs to want to get out of here tomorrow, and I want you to fix me up something that will put me on my feet. I fancy these beauty spots are getting along well enough to let me out of here."

He put up his hand and touched the bandages on his head. The interne stepped over to the bed, sat down and put his fingers upon the officer's pulse. The sick man at tempted to snatch his hand away petulantly, but I saw with inward amusement that the interne's slender fingers were muscular enough to keep the other's wrist prisoner.

"If you want to get out of here tomorrow—week," the interne said with slow firmness, "you must behave yourself."

I waited with trepidation, and I think the nurse shared my tremors. For the explosion which I was sure would follow. But to my surprise the sick man made no comment and no further struggle. Perhaps he remembered his years of military discipline, realized the necessity of submission to medical authority, and was a bit ashamed of his ebullition of temper.

KIDDIE KORMER

Such a DANDY story has come in that I'm going to give it to you instead of the Gown. The story today—and you'll probably think it is lots more fun. I'm not going to waste a minute but POP RIGHT IN and begin to tell it. So hurry hustle, scramble hustle—here we go.

ALICE PARKER
The Hidden Town
Once there lived a boy and a girl who were very "adventurous." The boy's name was Junior and the girl's was Nordene. One day they decided to dig and dig to see if they could find any gold. So Junior brought a shovel and began to dig. Suddenly he struck something hard and pointed.

"O! maybe it's gold!" cried Nordene in the greatest excitement. But it wasn't gold. "Why it's like a church steeple!" said Jack—and sure enough, he was right. It was a bit more like the tip of a church steeple. Jack dug deeper and deeper. Soon the whole roof was uncovered. Then he came to a window. It was shut but he opened it and they both climbed in. Down some winding stairs they went, through a door and then to their amazement they were in a WONDERFUL LITTLE TOWN.

How happy they were at their discovery! Just as they were laughing aloud came a little old man. "Why are you so happy?" said he. "Why shouldn't we be, when we have just discovered this wonderful, happy little town?" said they.

"This town is wonderful, but you are wrong about the happiness," said he sadly. "We are all very unhappy. Our beautiful queen is very sick and can't live long. But if someone would save her from the hands of the evil witch, her life she would live and something marvelous would happen to her rescuer—but we must not tell what it is or we lose our lives."

"Show us your queen and we will see what we can do," said Junior. "Jeb, for so the little man said, was called, led the way to a beautiful building of pure gold and into a room where the loveliest person the children had ever seen lay upon a bed. Jeb explained how the children came to be there and that they wished to help."

"I hope that you can help," said the Queen. "My men are too old and weak to do anything for me. Every one in this town is old except myself. The only other woman is my dear friend Dolores. My name is Jean. I shall not live long unless help comes. It does not seem to be dying but she is taking my strength every day. Unless she is killed I shall surely die."

"How may I be killed?" cried Junior, much excited. "These are the directions," said the queen with a great effort. "Jeb will lead you to a high mountain cave made of pure gold. He will lead you up a high mountain and ring a bell which will open an ugly old man will come and tell you no one is home. Thrust this in his face and he will disappear, and the queen will be saved. It is a piece of cloth. Then walk in and you will see two great eyes, as huge as plates, staring at you through the darkness. They are the eyes of the serpent. Throw the magic rock in his left eye. It has the power to kill the serpent. But if you do not walk straight and look ahead and throw the rock straight you will perish in the serpent's jaws. Will you try?"

"Yes," said Junior. Shortly after this Junior and Jeb set off while Nordene stayed with the Queen. Soon they came to the mountain and everything happened just as the Queen had said. The old man disappeared and then the queen's eyes glared and then Junior did not tremble, for he was brave. He took careful aim and threw with all his skill. Straight into the serpent's eye it crashed and the serpent felt dead. And at once everything began to change.

The sun, which had never before shone in that town, began to send out his rays. The whole town was rising. Soon they burst through the ground and there was Junior's home with his father living. Most wonderful of all the little old people were all young and handsome again and the Queen was laughing and well.

Then she explained to them all how she had been under the spell of a wicked witch all these years and how Junior had at last released her. The Queen then invited them all to live with her, but they preferred to live in their old home. But when they grew older they were such dear friends that Junior married the Queen, Nordene married Jeb and Dolores married a cousin of the queen's and unless I am much mistaken they will always live in peace and wealth.

There, wasn't that as fine as any grown up story you ever read? We're not going to have any puzzles or make things today for I want to use our space for Halloween pictures. So many of the kiddies have asked for Halloween costumes, so here are three and next time there will be some more.

WITCH COSTUME
Most of the girls like to dress as witches on Halloween, so here's the way to go about it. Almost any kind of a skirt and blouse will do. The skirt should be full and you should wear a white cloth folded over the blouse as the drawing shows. The main parts of this costume are the hat, black and brown. Every respectable witch ALWAYS rode on a broom. If you have an old wide hat, trim it with old pieces for the hat or you can make a new one of stiff cardboard. Now make a high crown of cardboard shaped like the crown in the drawing. Sew up the sides and ends. Then sew your crown to your brim and blacken them both with ordinary blacking. The cloak should be black too. Any

This is really the spookiest kind of a skirt and blouse will do. The make and is a very original costume. Instead of the flowing white apron usually seen, the GHOST is simply banded from head to toe. BAY DISTRICT
LARGEST ON WEST COAST

That the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan district for the 1920 census will be the largest on the Pacific Coast and one of the largest in the United States was the information received this morning by the manufacturers' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce from W. N. Stewart, acting director of the census bureau.

Included in the district are the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Francisco and San Mateo and in addition Petaluma, Sonoma, Napa, Vallejo, Fairfield, Suisun, Mayfield, San Jose and Santa Clara, and their suburbs, together with the manufacturing centers at the foot of San Francisco Bay.

The entire area proposed is part of the San Francisco-Oakland industrial district and lies in the main within a thirty-mile radius of the city limits of Oakland as a center.

The aggregate population approximated 1,000,000 and the value of the manufactured products was $210,000,000 in 1914.

According to figures compiled by the Chamber of Commerce, the population of the district is expected to show as nearly double in 1920 and the value of the manufactured products will far exceed the 1914 figures.

The enlargement of the Oakland district, so as to take in Alameda county and thus include some of the large factories tributary to the county seat, is the result of a fight extending over several years, carried on by the Chamber of Commerce, according to officials of that body. But it was only this year that the efforts of the manufacturers met with success.

The census bureau also has promised that a complete census of the plants will be taken in Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley, San Leandro, Albany and Emeryville, and that the total will be properly credited to the mainland section of San Francisco Bay.

According to John W. Phillips, chairman of the manufacturers' bureau, the result is expected to show that Oakland is near the top of the manufacturing center of the Pacific Coast and that its industrial growth has been the most remarkable in the United States since the 1910 census.

STUDENTS GIVE SILVER SHOWER

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—Yesterday's "shower of silver" at a mass meeting held by students of the University of California at the Greek theater raised approximately $900 for the Roosevelt memorial fund.

The fund-raising drive, which now being accumulated throughout the country, is the result of a big campaign to raise money for the memorial fund. On the stage six toads caused a big emblem as it fell from its place at the back of the stage and held it while faculty members tossed their contributions.

Members of men's honor societies on the campus held other flags in the diorama as more than 3000 students in all parts of the theater sent "offerings" during the evening.

The contribution of the university students will be made a part of the national memorial fund being raised to pay tribute to the former president, Dr. Benjamin Harrison.

Prize Hung Out for Best Jazz Music

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—A "jazz orchestra" contest with $25 as a prize for the prize organization providing the best syncopated music is announced by the music and drama committee of the University of California.

The contest is planned for the evening of Armistice day, November 11, when thirty colored musicians in the American Syncopated orchestra will demonstrate typical "American" music.

Berkeley Debates Waterfront Lease
Defense Corps Supports Approval

BERKELEY, Oct. 28.—Endorsement of the council's leasing of the waterfront to Rufus Jennings was given last night by the Berkeley Defense Corps.

Favorable action in behalf of the lease followed a discussion of both sides of the controversy in which Professor Stuart Daggett of the University of California, one of the leaders in the referendum fight, attacked the document as being "weak" in its terms in that he declared it fails to provide for a compulsory carrying out of the plans as set forth for waterfront development.

Professor Daggett's argument was answered by Councilman Charles D. Heywood, former Mayor Samuel C. Irving, John House, well-known engineer, and others, who declared that ample protection was afforded the city and that to hold up the lease at the present time would be to retard the economic and commercial advancement of the city. A majority vote was cast for the lease as it now stands.

At a mass meeting of the Berkeley Chamber of Commerce in the Hotel Shattuck with President Ira A. Morris presiding.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 28.—State laws that would fix the percentage of profit in the necessities of life and that would ban hoarding are to be urged before the special session of the legislature by Mayor Meredith J. Snyder of Los Angeles.

The proposed legislation also includes a law to enable the cities to license warehouses and cold storage plants in such a way that hoarding of foodstuffs would be impossible.

OAKLAND LAGS ON ROOSEVELT
FUND PLEDGES

Unless a more liberal and a more general response is made by the people of Oakland the campaign for the Roosevelt Memorial Fund will fail of its purpose.

This was the announcement today by Attorney John W. Stetson, who is in charge of the campaign for the Roosevelt Memorial Fund.

"We had believed that this fund could be subscribed by citizens who believed in what Roosevelt stood for as a citizen without resorting to 'drive tactics,' said Stetson. 'In a way our belief has been vindicated in that hundreds of citizens have called at our headquarters and made their contributions.'

"However, hundreds and upon hundreds have not. The situation is a serious one. Reports indicate the large communities all over the United States are not only reaching their allotments but are oversubscribing them."

"May I make a personal appeal to every man and woman to save the campaign. We are not out for large subscriptions. One dollar donations and 55 subscriptions will save the fund. Reports indicate the large communities all over the United States are not only reaching their allotments but are oversubscribing them."

"We are not asked to raise a large amount and I feel I can make such an appeal with good grace. To handle a campaign is not any one's personal business. We who are handling this one are donating our time and the expenses are being met by friends of Roosevelt."

"We have the remainder of the week to make good in. Let every one do something. Subscriptions may be made at the Roosevelt headquarters, 265 Oakland Bank of Savings or through any of the newspapers or banks."

Bicyclist in Smash Encounters Real Jinx

The real meaning of jinx was impressed upon C. J. Sheldon, 110 Bryant street, yesterday afternoon, after Sheldon figured in an accident with an auto. Sheldon was run into by a machine at Twentieth and Grove streets and thrown off a bicycle he was riding. In the excitement following he forgot the wheel. On returning to get his wheel, he found that somebody had appropriated the bike.

$2.50 TOO MUCH
FOR ONE DRINK,
SAYS JENKINS

ALBANY, Oct. 28.—John Jenkins, who says he resides in Richmond, wanted a drink, a real old-fashioned kind of a drink. He got it. What's more, he had three "chasers." When his thirst was satisfied he sought to pay his bill. "How much?" he asked.

"Ten dollars," came the reply. When he recovered his breath Jenkins paid and departed. Out in the sunshine he thought the matter over. He decided that $2.50 was too much to pay for a drink of Kentucky eye even in times of prohibition. The flash of a star caught his eye and he told his woes to an Albany officer of the law.

"Lead me to this blind pig," came the demand of the officer. And Jenkins led. When he started

CARPENTER'S
SHOES STOLEN
AS HT WORKS

In these days of high cost of everything, W. E. Dica, 724 Eleventh street, a carpenter, isn't going to let the theft of his pair of shoes pass off as a matter of course.

Dica went to central station today and gave detectives a complete description of his "kicks." While carpentering on a new building at Forty-first and Opal streets, Dica lays aside his $19 pair of shoes and works in softer footwear. Hence his loss.

across the Contra Costa county line the officer balked. "You're getting out of my territory," he said. "Tell your troubles to the Richmond police."

Last seen, Jenkins was continuing his march to justice.

STATE CEMENT
CONCERNS SCORED

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 28.—W. R. Lebo of Aberdeen, Wash., was the principal witness for the government yesterday afternoon in its case in the federal court against officers of the Oregon-Portland Cement Co., who are charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade.

Lebo testified he formerly represented three Washington cement companies at Aberdeen and he was notified on January 1, 1915, his concerns had withdrawn from the Washington field. He tried to do business with California cement companies, all of which told him they were not going to operate in Washington, the witness declared.
